Dear Tolulope Adekola,

On behalf of the Young Scholars Initiative (YSI) Africa Working Group, we happily invite you to present your paper titled “The African continental free trade agreement and the regional mechanism under the amended WTO-Trip agreement: Prospects and limitations for access to medicine in Africa” at the YSI Asia Convening, which will take place at Vietnam National University, Hanoi, Vietnam from 12-15th August, 2019.

The convening is YSI’s largest and most impactful engagement of our Asian scholars. It is a forum for young scholars who are committed to new economic thinking to meet, inspire and support each other. Your presence in the academic and professional fields of economics would prove crucial to inspire new economic thinking amongst aspiring economists across the continent, and offer crucial support to our initiative

The convening provides a platform for seventeen of our thematic working groups to deepen the discourse in their own field of interest and collaborate across subjects in order to address the grand challenges of our time. Our ultimate goal is that each participant be able to contribute to the specific research agenda of their working group, connect their work in a bigger picture, and enjoy the mentorship of senior thinkers.

We would be happy to provide travel stipend of $200 as well as accommodation at La Thanh Guest House (Address: 218 Đội Cấn, Liễu Giai, Ba Đình, Hà Nội) and hospitality in Hanoi for the duration of the convening. We very much hope to welcome you in Hanoi

Sincerely,

Jay Pocklington
YSI Manager.
