In this Zoom research symposium, we will explore new and innovative ways of writing mobilities in transnational Asia and discuss advances and new trends in research on migration and globalization. A group of Rice University students will present their ongoing writing projects on a range of topics in Asia-Pacific migration and to interact with three transnational Asian Studies scholars who will provide expert comments on the presentations.

The symposium is convened by Dr. Ka-Kin Cheuk (ka-kin.cheuk@rice.edu) and is sponsored by Inquiry-Based Learning (IBL) Teaching Grant, Office of Undergraduate Research and Inquiry, Rice University.
